

Mr. Bulletfeeder By Double-Alpha

There are a lot of products that claim to improve your reloading experience. We usually steer clear of these gadgets as they don't seem to bring enough value to compensate for their cost. Worse, some of them can actually damage a customer's machine. We certainly want no part of that. Then there are those products that truly bring value to the table, or the bench in our case. The Mr. Bulletfeeder by Double-Alpha is one such product.

A lot of our customers are competitive shooters of one sort or another. From novices, who might shoot a few weekend matches each month, to world champions who practice constantly and shoot every major match they can attend, we have customers who demand a pretty high output from our reloading machines. It might not seem like much but it does take time to put that bullet on the case each time you pull the handle. A second here and another second there, it all adds up. Especially for competitors who are looking to shave a tenth of a second on a stage so that they can win a match. The Mr. Bulletfeeder by Double-Alpha eliminates that time spent fumbling for the next bullet that you are trying to place on the cartridge mouth and allows you to focus on smoothly pulling the handle and refilling the components as you go along.

Dillon Precision's Reloading Bench

News and information for reloaders

<http://dillonprecision.net>

Shoot more than one caliber? A lot of our customers do so along with your Dillon Precision Caliber Conversion Kit you'll want to pick up a Mr. Bulletfeeder Caliber Conversion. We have them in 9mm/38 Super/38 Special/357 Magnum, 40 S&W, 45ACP, 223 REM/5.56mm, 308 WIN/7.62x51mm, and 6.5/.264

To better assist our customers we've added the Mr. Bulletfeeder user's manual to our site along with a set of tutorial videos produced by Mr. Bulletfeeder. The user's manuals are available in English, French, German and Italian. The tutorial videos cover everything from unboxing to advanced troubleshooting for the Mr. Bulletfeeder.